

Blues for Concert Band

Instrument Ranges

The image displays a musical score for a concert band, titled "Blues for Concert Band" with the subtitle "Instrument Ranges". The score is organized into two systems of staves, each containing two measures. The instruments listed on the left are: Flute, Recorder, Oboe, Bb Clarinet, Alto Sax, Tenor Sax, Bari Sax, Bassoon, Horn in F, Horn in Eb, Trumpet, Trombone, and Tuba. Each instrument's part is represented by a single staff with a treble or bass clef. The notation shows a starting note with a flat (b) and a slanted line indicating an ascending range to a final note, also with a flat (b). For example, the Flute part starts on a note with a flat and ascends to a note with a flat on the second line of the staff. The Tuba part starts on a note with a flat on the first line of the bass staff and ascends to a note with a flat on the second line. The Bb Clarinet part starts on a note with a flat on the first line and ascends to a note with a flat on the second line. The Alto Sax part starts on a note with a flat on the first line and ascends to a note with a flat on the second line. The Tenor Sax part starts on a note with a flat on the first line and ascends to a note with a flat on the second line. The Bari Sax part starts on a note with a flat on the first line and ascends to a note with a flat on the second line. The Bassoon part starts on a note with a flat on the first line and ascends to a note with a flat on the second line. The Horn in F part starts on a note with a flat on the first line and ascends to a note with a flat on the second line. The Horn in Eb part starts on a note with a flat on the first line and ascends to a note with a flat on the second line. The Trumpet part starts on a note with a flat on the first line and ascends to a note with a flat on the second line. The Trombone part starts on a note with a flat on the first line and ascends to a note with a flat on the second line. The Tuba part starts on a note with a flat on the first line and ascends to a note with a flat on the second line.
